

RESTAURANTS/PUBS/CAFES

This part of North Norfolk is a foodies heaven. So much is locally produced from the land and sea. Here's a short list of some of our personal favourites but there are too many to mention them all.

Morston Hall Patron chef Galton Blackiston and chef Richard Bainbridge have won great praises from regional and national press. It is the only restaurant with both 3 red rosette's and Michelin Star award within a 50 mile radius.

www.morstonhall.com

The Morston Anchor – Morston. Great food, beers and atmosphere. You can collect your Temple Seal trip tickets here.

www.morstonanchor.co.uk

The White Horse - Brancaster Staithe. Spectacular views over the flood marshes with stunning sunsets. Excellent food.

www.whitehorsebrancaster.co.uk

The Wiveton Hall Farm Cafe – Wiveton Farm to table with Friday and Saturday tapas nights in the summer months.

www.wivetonhall.co.uk/the-cafe

Byfords – Holt – All day good, breakfast, lunch and dinner. Open seven days a week. www.byfords.org.uk

The Gunton Arms – Thorpe Market – Art dealer Ivor Braka bought the Gunton Arms and spent two years renovating before opening it's doors in 2011. The chef Stuart Tattersall (ex head chef at Mark Hix) cooks from local ingredients including venison from the surrounding deer park.

www.theguntonarms.co.uk

Back to the Garden – A148 into Holt. Local farm shop and excellent cafe including dinner at weekends.

www.back-to-the-garden.co.uk

Creake Abbey – North Creake Home to a stunning new Café Head Cook Alison Yetman together with the ruins of an Augustinian abbey founded in 1206.

www.creakeabbey.co.uk

Cookies – Salthouse – charming ramshackle premises, plentiful fresh seafood salads at great prices. BYO booze.

www.salthouse.org.uk

Hoste Arms – Burnham Market – A popular, well established venue. The Hoste kitchen being awarded two AA rosettes.

www.thehoste.co.uk

The Victoria Inn – Holkham. Great fish and chips nestled in the stunning Holkham Estate. www.victoriaatholkham.co.uk

